Fancy Yellow-Green Diamond Earrings

“One green diamond over 3 carats is a rarity, finding two matched Pear-shaped greens of this size is beyond rare,” said Joe Padulo, CEO of Padulo Privé and a consultant to high-end jewelers.

“Complemented by pink diamonds and white diamond “leaves” of Pear and Marquise stones, these magnificent green diamonds are the ultimate holiday gift.”

Fancy Vivid Yellow-Orange Diamond Ring

“Pure orange diamonds are exceptionally rare, so rare that only one important Fancy Vivid Orange diamond has come to auction in the past five years,” said Padulo. “The 1.82-carat Fancy Yellow-Orange Oval is a luscious tangerine color, flanked by white diamonds in a classic 3-stone design.”

For Collectors, Investors and Connoisseurs

Demand for natural color diamonds has soared in the last decade. Their popularity as an alternative asset class is well documented in the financial press, and by record-breaking sales at leading auction houses.

“The collector demand for colored diamonds has never been higher,” said Jill Burgum, Senior Director of Jewelry at Heritage Auctions. “We didn’t see just one or two bidders pursue these special gemstones. We saw several bidders competing for the best of the best.”*
